

The Technology Platforms manage, document, educate, train, and distribute the technologies, materials, knowledge, processes, object and means of manipulating environments, applications, systems, treatment, and production of newly acquired innovations, products, technologies, and materials through contact.