SOUL CONTRACT (The Easy Version)

There are other documents that address Soul Contracts at the fundamental and advanced levels, but this is a basic concept document.

A Soul Contract is a binding agreement between your energy and Source's or Domomo's Energies to fulfill specific tasks (such as life lessons for the evolution of the soul's consciousness and enlightenment) or services (either Chaos or Order) with caveats for fulfillment. It has everything to do with your soul and your conscious level or commitment to The Light or The Dark. Your contract is to be fulfilled with one or the other for the life force given. It is only between you and the giver. It isn't between you and other physical beings. It is influenced and fulfilled by people, places, events, and situations provided in the clauses of the contract. Individuals from your Primary and Secondary Soul Groups are often the influences to your contract. The Tertiary group only enters if you are failing and need help.

Soul contracts give rise to synchronicity and guidance from the universe. This means that when you are dedicated to fulfilling your soul contract, you will automatically attract people who can help you on the path of fulfilling this contract. However, if your soul contract remains impeded, unfulfilled in learning life lessons, or broken, you will be filled with negative energies that overwhelm you with feelings of persecution, blame, resentment, guilt, and shame.

In order to understand the necessity and how it works, we must first understand for this process to work correctly, all souls must follow the Universal Laws of the Universe. If souls don't abide by these rules, they won't be able to fulfill their purpose or make a positive contribution in life. When you follow these laws, you can create a life filled with order, prudence, temperance, fortitude, mercy, grace, compassion, patience, peace, and justice, which all equate to joy and happiness.

So let's begin: Before incarnating into a physical body, the energetic spirits meet with one another and negotiate agreements to work together (influence), gain experience in the physical dimensions, and determine to evolve or not from those influences and experiences. If we negotiated the right kind of soul contract, then they will influence us to fulfill our life's purpose.

As a help toward fulfillment, every soul is assigned a guardian angel who works with seven ascended masters or teachers before they incarnate into human form. The negotiations take place in the House of Sephiras, but the contract is written in the House of Chayim Enon. When we are born, we then take on a family that assists us in learning what to expect from life. This is all pre-agreed and what we signed up for.

We negotiate who will be our teachers and what lessons we need to learn in life. Before we enter the fetus, we communicate with our future parents about factors like health history and family behavior patterns. This way, when we are born into our families, we can assimilate into our environment more easily.

These soul contracts are not meant to last forever. When the agreement is up, we ascend into our spiritual dimension before it is determined whether we are to create a new one. If we failed to fulfill our contract, then we will be required to write another contract. If we fulfilled our contract, then it becomes our choice whether to move to another enlightened phase or revisit the physical dimension through another contract. Without a contract, our power is severely diminished.

Life is a test but it wouldn't be if you knew the answers!

Our life purpose is defined by the clauses in our contract. These negotiated arrangements allow us to connect with the people, places, situations, and events we need in our lives to reach our goals, because they enable us to fulfill our purpose. This creates a spiritual matrix between individuals, places, situations, and events destined to provide the greatest potential for success and fulfillment possible.

The contracts are measured by three types of energies. These are positive, negative and neutral or balanced. The intensity of this energy depends on how well we have fulfilled our contracts so far. Positive souls would be manifest in individuals who are pure of heart, have good intentions and are willing to help others. They traverse the levels of consciousness easily, which gives them more power to manifest and fulfill life's purposes. Positive Souls are designed to teach you about humanity. The ultimate goal for people with this kind of soul is to gain wisdom and continue to learn about life, the universe and everything.

However, if you don't fulfill yours or ignore it completely, then your power will diminish and the negative energy dominates. Negative souls are evident in individuals who are manipulative or abusive towards others. They seek attention and the need to be the center of everyone's universe is strong with them. Negative souls lack empathy and they don't care about anyone but themselves. If their visibility is diminished, then negative souls lose power and they will stop existing in that form.

To ultimately fulfill all your soul contract is to become balanced or neutral within the heart energy of the soul matrix. Neutral Souls come from people who are well-balanced and don't possess any strong positive or negative traits. They can be leaders, followers or anything in between depending on what is needed for the situation at hand. When souls are broken down into their three components of energy, they then become pure white light. This divine power allows them to create life after life without losing their power or influence. This allows you to enter the spiritual levels of fulfillment.

KEY NOTE Your soul contract will affect many things in your life, including relationships. Sometimes, soul agreements are broken when negative behaviors come into play or another person has not fulfilled their end of the contract. Either way, if you've reached a point where you're uncertain about your future, then it's time to reflect on what you've learned over the past few years and how it has affected your life.*

THE ELEMENTS OF YOUR CONTRACT

1. You Chose Your Name and Date Of Birth

Your time, date and place of birth are no coincidence. Neither is your name you thought you were given by your parents. These carry a unique energetic signature and were all agreed upon to help you to understand your life purpose, strengths and personality blueprint.

2. You Chose Your Family

This can be challenging to hear, but you did this to enable yourself to learn specific lessons and broaden your awareness. At a higher level, we even sometimes agree to endure abusive or extreme relationships, to help us to reawaken to our purpose on the planet. In previous lives, you may have switched roles certain other people in your family, and taken on different archetypes in their lives. So, for example, your parents or siblings may have been your children before. This is often arranged for the purpose of releasing karma.

Life is a test but it wouldn't be if you knew the answers!

3. Your Soul Family Helps You With Healing

Various people are destined to come into your life to help you heal something either from past lives or from this lifetime. These people have agreed with Spirit to enter into your life, to help you to understand your emotions with greater clarity, so that you can reach greater levels of compassion and forgiveness.

4. Life Events Help You With Healing

Whatever events transpire in your life, they arise to help you evolve to a higher state of consciousness. These events can be both good and bad. Try and hold off judgments as they are happening and look for the bigger picture. Perhaps you didn't get that huge mortgage because you are being called by Spirit to start a different spiritual journey?

5. You Have Free Will

You incarnated on this planet at a specific time and place with a soul purpose.

However, one thing that's not predetermined is your free will and choice. This means that you decide how you want your life to unfold once you get here. While these decisions are seen as your fate, one thing that you cannot change is your destiny. Your destiny is essentially to experience the unconditional love of the Universe, and it can take many lifetimes and many dimensions, in order to fully return to oneness.

6. You Choose Your Death

The moment you die and the way that you die has been predetermined on your contract.

There may also be several other opportunities to leave the earth plane during the course of your life, which present themselves as 'exit points'. At these times, you'll get the chance to either stay or go. Once you fully accept that this pact has been made at a higher level, it will often release the fear and pain associated with the crossing. It enables you to recognize everything is unfolding perfectly and you are just waking up from a dream.

7. You Are Not Alone

We are all given some help along the way by our Spirit Guides, Angels and multi-dimensional aspects of ourselves. To fulfill your soul contract, you have access to Spirit Guides or Angels, which change over time as your life unfolds. The more self-aware you become, and the more you develop and trust your psychic gifts, the more you'll be able to receive and translate the signs and symbols left for you. These will ensure you remain committed to your highest mission.

8. Synchronicity Happens

When you're fully aligned to your soul purpose, you will observe synchronicity or strange coincidences occurring to guide you effortlessly from one opportunity to the next.

Another reliable clue from Spirit, that you're following your highest path, is when you encounter the right people at the right time. These people have been placed on your path to deliver information, guidance, and assistance when you're in doubt or wanting to learn.

9. You Can Break A Soul Contract

When you feel that your agreements no longer serve your growth or actually stands in your way, it is possible to free yourself from them. For some people, this will truly allow them to blossom on their spiritual journey, and actually helps them to better serve the planet by raising overall consciousness.

For example, if you have recognized a contract around poverty consciousness, that is no longer serving your highest purpose you can say the following:

"With sufficient desire and sufficient belief, I am Master of my own creation."

Life is a test but it wouldn't be if you knew the answers!

I acknowledge that I feel fear about not having enough money and that it no longer serves my spiritual path.

With the power of my higher self, I release this fear back to the Universe for the greatest good, to be transformed into the highest form of Divine Love and Light. So shall this be!"

10. You Can Clear Karmic Debt

Forgive yourself and others and free yourself from karmic cycles.

Say the following:

"With sufficient desire and sufficient belief, I forgive anyone I think has harmed me in this any lifetime, anywhere, on any dimension. I forgive all debts and erase all karma. I choose the light for myself and all my past, present, and future. So shall this be!" You will feel gratitude if this has been achieved successfully. As forgiveness happens in layers it may take a few attempts before you feel true gratitude.

11. You Can Clear Ancestral Agreements

Release ancestral agreements by stating the following with focused intent:

"With sufficient desire and sufficient belief, I now reject any and all vows that I accepted in order to experience the illusion of unconsciousness and separation from Source.

As the light bearer of my genetic lineage, I break these vows for myself and my ancestors.

I declare these vows null and void in this incarnation and all of our incarnations across time, space, parallel realities, parallel universes, alternate realities, alternate universes, planetary systems, all source systems, and all dimensions.

I ask for the release of all crystal devices, implants, negative thought forms, limiting emotions, matrices, veils, dark cellular memory, misguided pictures of reality, genetic limitation and the illusion of death.

I break and release these limiting vows and blockages now.

I am free.

I am divine.

I reclaim my natural power and co-create my reality with Source. So shall this be!"

Then ask your inner source for the voids left behind to be filled with harmony, love, joy, happiness, spiritual growth and prosperity on all levels.

MOVING FORWARD

As you move forward in your journey, make a list of what's helped you learn and evolve most from your soul contract. They could be people who have influenced you or lessons about humanity that have been taught to you through hardship.

If the negative behaviors of others have affected your relationship with them, then it's vital to understand that they are learning about love through their experiences. You can foster more positive energy towards them by understanding what has brought them to this point in their life so you can move forward without hatred or anger.

When an individual violates another person's contract, they run the risk of losing their power. If someone abuses you, then they are violating your contract and it's important to report this to the Universe by accepting the truth of what is happening, acknowledging yourself in that truth and evolving yourself. Not only could it be a disruption in their soul contract, but negative energy can also harm others around them including loved ones.

Life is a test but it wouldn't be if you knew the answers!

Your life is full of experiences that make up who you are today. While some people may learn through serendipity, others need to be faced with their demons in order for them to overcome. If you've made mistakes and dealt with negative influences such as abusive people or criminals, then it's time to look at how your soul contract has brought these experiences into your life, what you need to evolve, and become a higher state of being.

Soulmates are sometimes known as soul family members, twin flames, or kindred spirits. However, each of these phrases has its own specific meaning. Soulmates are a smaller part of your soul contract. In fact, you have several soulmates who will help you during different parts of your life's journey. Souls with the same purpose will form groups that work together. Therefore, the people in your life who fulfill specific needs (like friends and significant others) fall into this category as well. It's probable that you've made a soul pact with someone you love. It's also quite likely that you've made one with someone who isn't a soulmate. The point is....don't get hung up in this. It is only for this contract that you negotiated this term.

When you have a soul family or twin flame, they are souls who have cultivated their energy with yours before from your Primary and Secondary groups. Most often they are not related to you by DNA, but they can still fulfill parts of your needs. If this is the case, then it's recommended that you find them in the physical dimension and invite them into your life.

You also might be connected to someone who isn't a soul family member in the contract, but belongs to the Tertiary group. There may be certain things that you share in common with them, for example. If they meet certain criteria and fulfill specific needs in your life, then it could qualify them as a kindred spirit or only there to help you learn the lesson and then move on.

Soul contracts can affect healing in a number of ways. For example, when you sign your soul contract, it automatically starts the process of Spiritual Healing and the pathway to consciousness. Unfortunately, when we talk about healing, we're referring to physical and emotional healing. However, when talking about spiritual healing, we're talking about your connection with spirit and how it has an effect on your well-being. All in all, Spiritual Healing is the process that takes place when you attend to your spiritual needs so they can be fulfilled to the fullest extent possible.

If you've made a mistake, then it's possible that this was part of your soul contract. However, the key to remember is that mistakes are just experiences. What are you going to take away from it. If you're making an effort to learn from one and move forward, then this can help strengthen your ability to follow the universal laws.

You can ask for guidance before you make any decisions and the Universe will send positive energy your way. This is where having a soul contract becomes useful because it can help determine what steps to take towards fulfilling your pact with the Universal Laws.

These laws are there to guide us into making positive connections with others, which also means that all experiences are actually opportunities for growth. It's up to you to take advantage of these moments so you can evolve to a higher state of being.

When it comes down to it, broken soul contracts are always there in the background until they're fulfilled or neutralized in some way. If you've created or you are involved in a bad experience then it may not be easy to catch up with yourself, but this shouldn't stop you from trying anyway.

Life is a test but it wouldn't be if you knew the answers!

BROKEN CONTRACTS

In some cases, soul contracts can be broken when someone dies before their time or makes a pact with the Dark Energies. In rare cases, a soul contract is fulfilled (which constitutes it being broken at the Source level) if an individual does something so positive for humanity that it changes the Universal karma.

If you're wondering how to break a spiritual contract without going against universal laws, then focus on being positive and allowing the Universe to reward you for your actions. Never expect this positive energy to come easily. It takes discipline and dedication to become a better person so you can grow spiritually. This means focusing on doing things that are good not only for yourself but the people around you as well.

Once you've made significant changes in your life, it's possible that you'll find positive energy flowing towards you. The first thing you should do is stop thinking negatively because this will attract negative experiences to your life. Don't focus on resenting others for breaking your contract or violating your soul, but learn from these experiences so you can move forward in a constructive way.

TYPES OF CONTRACTS

To begin with, you may have elements of several contracts consigned to your current soul contract. This is due to not fulfilling clauses of previous contracts and therefore, they are carried forward to your new contract. Just because you didn't fulfill it doesn't mean it's null and void. You will still be required to fulfill those life lessons and services till you learn what you agreed to do and by Free Will transform or convert those energies through transmutation and evolving.

The Soul Contract of Protection - Are you the type who likes working behind the scenes? Someone who doesn't like getting the spotlight? This is a common contract our souls get into before we are born.

It's an agreement wherein you only stand in the background to protect yourself from the risks of being criticized, called out, or even ostracized. While the original intent is self-protection, you will slowly realize that always standing in the background hinders you from achieving your maximum potential. You keep rejecting opportunities because you are afraid of their consequences. For you, it's better to stay in your comfort zone than to run the risks of chasing your big dreams.

However, to reap the lessons of the soul contract of protection, you need to overcome your fear of failure. You need to try and find the things you are good at. Remember that standing out is not always a bad thing. The more you get recognized and appreciated, the more your soul grows.

The Soul Contract of the Heart (Discontent, Persecution, and Sadness) - For some of us, there is this lingering feeling of discontent, persecution, and sadness that doesn't seem to go away. No matter how much we try to do things that make us happy, there's always this sense of dissatisfaction underneath it all.

Then you ask yourself, am I just discontent with everything? Why do I have such an ungrateful heart?

This could be the soul contract of sadness at work. When your soul is tied to this contract, you really won't be truly happy in life. You can get a new partner, a new job or lead a seemingly better life, but you are still prone to the loneliness brought by this contract. One way to finally end the soul contract of the Heart is to surround yourself with people who radiate positive energy and support you in all your endeavors. Having a support group is vital for souls who are under this contract.

The Soul Contract of Sacrifice - The contract of sacrifice is the most common soul contract that people experience. We all have the tendency to put others before ourselves. We think that when we cater to their needs first, it is an act of love and selflessness.

However, if you do this at the expense of your own good, it will surely damage you in the long run. Under this contract, our souls are made to believe that it is selfish to think of ourselves first. This contract usually manifests in our fears of being labeled as selfish and indifferent.

The sign that your soul is finally free from this contract is when you learn how to be kind wisely. This means that you are now able to decide who to help and when to help. This contract ultimately teaches us the importance of saying no for our own good.

The Soul Contract of Loyalty - Another common soul contract is the contract of loyalty. This concerns the way we let our relationships shape our lives. Under this contract, our souls are made to believe that we should excessively honor labels and hierarchy.

This could mean letting people walk all over you just because they are your family, your boss, or someone older than you. This might make you feel trapped in the said relationships. To free your soul from this contract, you need to learn how to see people beyond the titles they hold in your life. This means that even if someone is your superior; know how to speak up appropriately if they are doing something wrong. At the end of the day, the labels do not mean anything. It all boils down to how they treat you and others. Likewise, how you treat others.

The Soul Contract of Virtues – Another common soul contract is the contract of Virtues. This contract generally comes about when an individual mires and lives by lust, greed, gluttony, pride, envy, wrath, and unforgiveness. To free your soul from this contract, you need to learn, incorporate, and live purposefully with the Divine Virtues of Prudence, Temperance, Fortitude, Mercy, Grace, Justice, and Charity.

The Soul Contract of Nature - This could be in the form of an Animal Soul Contract, a Reptile Soul Contract, a Plant or Tree Soul Contract, etc. having to do with Nature, where your Soul has been determined (pre-incarnation) that you have made choices against the Universal Laws intentionally that affected others and that you have chosen not to assist yourself and others. These contracts mean you would come back as a cat or snake to learn to make choices differently. If you are incarnated as a dog, this means you have earned a life of rest and obedience in the areas of communication and protection. As you work on this Soul Contract, you must learn new found behaviors that will help you provide a better, more secure life moving forward.

CHAOS OR ORDER SERVICES CONTRACTS

Chaos Service is an extraordinary, chaotic, and highly potent form of negative energies that are generated inside of certain individuals to perform chaos services for The Dark in the forms of dissonance and disruption that lead to disasters. Dissonance is capable of warping reality, disintegrating beliefs and matter, and it distorts the mind of everyone that contacts and interacts with it. Dissonant Reality serves as a gateway to the Dark Energy dimensions and Domomo. It seeks to rule out consciousness. Disruption is described as the process by which negative energies can successfully challenge and take over positive energies making an individual vulnerable to the Dark Forces. The general idea is that a condition of chaos calls into action the negative mystical forces dominated by Domomo.

Order Service is the Divine energies of Source generated within certain individuals to perform extraordinary services for The Light to spiritually teach, educate, and purposefully live in accordance with the Universal Laws to transform chaos into divine order.

So what kind of contract do you have and how are you fulfilling that contract?
