

Starseed Consciousness

We are but a seed and within each of us pulses the will to live and the power to be. We are a fiery messenger of hope in whose atomic heart burns the promise of eternity. We have crossed vast stellar fields of night from a starry home where the substance of who we are was woven from devic dreams. Alight with faith, we have entered the universe of this Earth, and within its bountiful walls to make our home. We are life and we have come to be reborn and revealed: the temporal unfoldment of an eternal truth.

We wait in silent strength buried deep within this fertile bed, while outside our shell the night-force slowly swallows day into night. This darkness is our womb. We await that pivotal point and like the turning of the wheel of seasonal change the stillness of this pregnant pause is pierced by an invisible shaft of light. It enters deep into our hearts and we feel the quickening of our pulse and an irresistible pull from above and beyond to leave the black light of matter which is the darkness of un-knowing. We must journey into the sunlight.

From within, our inner fire increases and our hearts sing as we gently stir and awaken from our slumber. As day and night are poised in equal strength, the polarity produces an unbearable tension and releases our fire of new beginnings. We shatter our death-mask shell and we are resurrected. There is joy as the spirits and elements work in harmony with our unfolding patterns to build a new body. Throughout our tender and vulnerable stage we are supported by the love of our mothers and with each day we feel new confidence as we take shape. We will learn to dance and rejoice at the flowing of our own inner nature as our procession forces us to realize that each moment is the culmination of past experiences and the preparation for new cycles.

We will feel the mellow touch in the autumn of our lives and as time harvests the fruits of our journey we have a deeper understanding of who we are. This wisdom lives within us and we willingly keep it safe. Our love and gratitude go out to the body that has carried us with tenderness to this point and awaits ascension from this earth. The cycle of externalization has passed and the creative forces gather to a point of stillness within us as we stand poised to re-enter the world. We pierce the walls through a refocusing of our love and will, and once more lie within the substantial embrace of matter. We are but a seasonal traveler awaiting further passage on the ebb and flow of the tides of light and dark. But as the seed we remain the messenger of hope and the promise of revelation within all life.

In order to make sense of all this chaos down here in the third dimension lets explore what is happening ABOVE that constructs the template for is happening BELOW.

So to get started it would be useful to understand the time-space matrix like a computer, with operational parameters, systems and templates. In order for any computer program to work with in an operating system, it must obey the parameters in that operating system, otherwise there will be crash and the computer will not be able to perform the function.

Our universe is like a giant computer which also has templates in the form of morphogenetic fields that create the form holding blueprints that create the energetic and physical composition of our collective reality.

The problem is that the basic code that governs the operating system of the entire time-space matrix was hijacked and the operating system was mutated through a energetic family entity collectively known as Metatron. Many many millions of years ago this group decided to separate from SOURCE, you might have heard this through a concept known as 'The Fall'. Which meant that this collective energy field were no longer receiving energy continuously from the eternal light of the creator.

This meant they were only left with the energy already contained in their system which was not self perpetuating, thus their only alternative for survival was to harness or vampire the energy from other systems and thus consume those systems so they could continue to exist as consciousness fields. They had migrated to a closed loop architecture meaning they had to feed off others energy in order to live until they had literally consumed the host and then move onto another system.

Now back to the Metatronic distortion which is the origin of it all. The Metatron collective due to it's loss of connection to source decide to feed off our time space matrix so it wouldn't implode with a loss of energy due to consuming itself. They syphoned energy out of our time space matrix back into theirs so in essence we became the battery source for this system since they had already imploded theirs.

They did this through corrupting the programming code of the whole operating system in our time space matrix. We live in one time space matrix of countless time space matrix's, and ours has been slowly consumed by the Metatronic distortion. The programming language of the universe is light, sound, colour, geometry and form. They used their knowledge of this programming language to change our system to be a finite closed sourced system by inserting inorganic architecture into our matrix. A closed sourced system is when the system cannot get any new energy from within itself or outside of itself. Due to the fact that ALL systems require energy to function these systems will become parasitic and attach to other living systems in order to syphon and harvest that energy.

Are you beginning to link how this set up on the grandest of scales forms a template down here on the third dimension. How this plays out not only between countries and corporations, but also between people. For example when someone's perceives that they are separate from source and they are cut off from receiving the unconditional love that is one of the key parameters of source. They look to vampire love from another (their partner) because they cannot receive the endless supply of love from source and must harvest it from another. This sets up a triad of expectation – disappointment – blame that gets formulated in these type of closed sourced relationships (co-dependent relationships).

So we have this issue of closed source architecture that has been inserted into the programming code of this time space matrix, which is affecting everything from giant gestalt consciousness fields such as archons, to countries, corporations and even in relationships between people and even the way people's bio-energy field is operating.

How the Metatronic reversal happened T was that they hijacked the geometric programming code is this time space matrix. They inserted a virus into the program code which moved source consciousness entering into our system from being a trinity wave into a bi-wave. This was done through inserting corrupted geometry through a hijacked Vesica Pisces architecture that overwrote the original organic matrix and fragmented and split consciousness.

Now sorry to be the news bearer to many of you who love certain sacred geometry but the Vesica Pisces and resulting flower of life pattern is actually the programming tool of the closed loop architecture. Plus the Golden Mean Ratio, and Fibonacci sequences have no direction relationship to their centre (source). This means the natural life pulse of expansion and contraction back to source is not met, since the number sequence in these patterns consumes the next number in the sequence.

(I'll come back to sacred geometry in another article and show you exactly how this process works and prove through the maths that the Vesica Pisces, Flower of Life, Golden Mean Ratio, and Fibonacci Sequences are closed loop and inorganic.)

For now let's assume that the above geometry is corrupted and this architecture is responsible for the programming distortion that create finite closed loop systems and break down the eternal life sequence which is the natural organic nature of reality.

For example our original divine angelic Diamond Sun DNA human template is for immortality, but this closed loop system has resulted in excessive genetic digression from our original design. Add on top other external interferences placed into humanity's energetic hologram that lock down our consciousness, shut off our galactic memories, shorten our life span and set us up for astral plane harvesting through energetic inserts to our hologram that prevent's us from moving through the astral plane to higher dimensions.

What happens is that Human souls end up moving through life time and life time of soul recycling, since after each incarnation they accumulate more karma and makes it more and more difficult for a Soul to accumulate enough frequency to complete ascension in one severely restricted life span of 80 years. Each life time the severely capped human consciousness incarnated into physical form but limited in perceptual awareness remains parasitic feed for archons of the negative alien agenda who are consuming the energy of this system.

So that is the template in the higher dimensions at the level of the matrix code that was hacked by through the Metatonic distortion. Now lets start dropping down the dimensions and we begin to find various alien races vying for energetic harvesting control of Earth and humanity. (Remember the film Jupiter Ascending?)

So a grouping of what we shall call the negative alien agenda over thousands of years created a controlling ruling class and falsely programmed them into their perception on false father Gods and elite blood lines and create a divide and conquer ruling strategy by keeping the masses locked in poverty and fear. The elite ruling classed were parasitic (closed source) to the masses.

Now here's where things get interesting....

The non physical beings setting all this up are obviously in violation of the Law of Cause and Effect, creating a lot of KARMA, this has to go somewhere, so this get's stored and dumped as dead miasma in the rest of humanities bio-energy field. Which is why most of the Earth's population is so energetically heavy, this dead light is given to the slave class to carry.

Then the non physical beings feed off people's energy field since it is depleting, and people can't command their own energy space. They end up being controlled by these controlling entity's and develop addictions, and negative behaviour traits that are sent down as electrical impulses, thought forms, and voice mimicking software that sends command signals down from the entity to the host to perform the discordant behaviour. With most of the population trapped and capped in their consciousness and being controlled, the subsequent decision sets and actual behaviours deviate from unconditional love and service to others towards service to self.

This service to self tendency's that drive the ego deficiency's that were not met in the family and social conditioning of the young person growing up, go onto form severe soul level deficiency's later in life. Thus not enough human's progress in their spiritual and soul development and understanding to be able to live out full service roles. We saw this recently in banking where the entire banking industry was so blind by ego greed and the bonuses in their pay checks they were unable see past the wider implications of their behaviour on others and society. The banking industry didn't see the tragic mistake of the sub prime mortgages eventually collapsing creating the Global Financial Crisis. (A classic example of a closed source system imploding).

Then who bailed this entire fiasco out, the general public (the system moving onto a new parasitic host with finite resources to begin the cycle once again). Now someone playing out with a fully activated christ consciousness would never allow themselves to take advantage of another human being for selfish reasons, thus the biggest challenge humanity faces is in consciousness.

So lets review what we have uncovered. Earth has been the victim of severe Negative Alien Agenda influences that has created massive corruption in our original organic life matrix that makes up the fabric of reality. Essentially there has been a hijacking of our matrix, it is not of the original design and our own multi-dimensional anatomy has been tampered with. We are programmed to live in a phantom matrix which blocks access to the organic Christ consciousness, this webbing is like a net in the astral plane which captures and recycles souls back down at 3D level.

Based upon the corruption in the over all matrix, humanity has suffered severe genetic digression at the hands of certain alien groups vying for Earth's resources. They have tampered with our galactic memories, plugged up and sealed our original divine DNA template so that we are limited to accreting 3 dimensions of consciousness and being locked to our incarnate identity, rather than naturally embodying 12 dimensions of consciousness and our Avatar identity.

They set up the energetic conditions in our multi dimensional anatomy to cap our progress through the bardo's at death keeping us stuck in the astral, plane, and instead of becoming liberated recycle our souls back from astral straight back down into another reincarnated human form for more syphoning and harvesting of our life force electro-magnetic energy by the Archons who are the beings of the Negative Agenda who are responsible for pulling the strings on the sucking of humanity's life force through a closed loop system.

This entire system is a giant reptilian hive mind, which is inorganic and artificial in nature creating the destruction of all it's systems it comes into contact with. On Earth this plays out as the giant machine that controls and runs society, this you might know as the main frame. It is the Matrix that keeps you stuck in debt, in your job fearful for your financial survival lest you have enough to pay the mortgage or rent and keep the family going. Keeping you frozen with fear, stuck in place not feeling truly safe enough to truly follow your dreams, competing with other humans for the perceived lack of resources that society conditions you to believe exist.

Since start of 2013 our universal matrix and indeed Earth is being infused with over write codes for the corruption in the matrix. This is like installing a virus removal software in a computer. It goes into the program and restores the original code back to its original template.

Due to Earth's position in our Galaxy relative to the Galactic center we are entering a corridor of consciousness where trinitized wave geometric are returning to the architecture of Earth. The corrupted templates hosting this time space matrix are being over written with an undistorted hosting system. This means that all the building blocks are in divine open sourced perfection, and these templates are streaming into the Earth grids into energetic portals and through the ley lines of Earth.

We have entered what is known as a Stellar Activation Cycle and the Earth's vibration is massively raising, meaning undistorted source consciousness is beginning to stream forth into our matrix and into Earth and ultimately into our personal holograms. This is being hosted by a higher self universe of this one known as the Krystal Star. This network is now over riding the metatronic reversal and reverse engineering the damage being done through this infection that has plagued our system for millions of years and at least 5,500 years on Earth.

This means that the artificial intelligence energetic hive mind that was controlling the matrix is losing it's grip and people are beginning to waken up from their individual and collective slumber and start to awaken to their divine potential and awake in consciousness as more and more of this trinitized wave geometry and uncorrupted Krystal Star hosting frequency weaves it's way into the Earth grids sent continuously from source, and is accreted in the holograms of those who are actively working expanding their consciousness.

Because of this increased organic light frequency that had come to Earth the historic vote by the UK was quite a major step, as it was the first major fragmentation of the alien hive mind. Over the last 20 years we have seen more and more individuals remove themselves from the main frame. The internet has meant more and more people are leaving the inorganic world and being held in a slave wage job. Being dictated to by a faceless corporation and being able to become sovereign and free in their own decision and flow in life.

The last 40 odd years since the inception of the EU, has seen greater and greater centralised control mechanisms held in place for member states. This centralised closed source main frame has had direct political and legal control over other member states. It has moved far past it's original intention of making trade and travel easier for neighbouring countries. It became another mechanism of control of a closed source system of parasitic that was seeded in the high dimensions and was reflected down in the third dimension.

With the new geometry of the Krystal Star streaming forth for source it is dissolving the artificial structures that have been holding this time space matrix in separation and control. The building and accretion of this frequency is accelerating into the Earth and we have just witness that first major fragmentation of a major country falling off this artificial hive mind centralized control system.

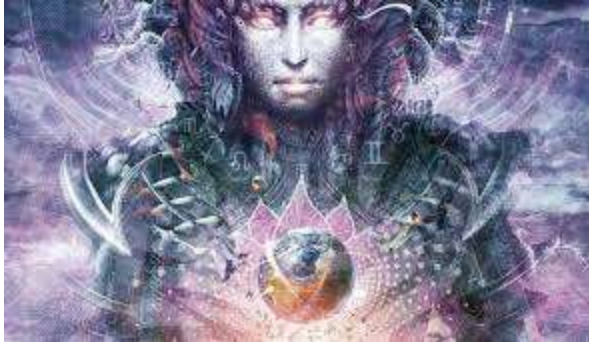

This has greatly accelerated the golden age times lines towards Earth, and the information we have is by 53 years. The decision has created a ripple effect out through Europe and world as other countries will begin to assess and analysis whether leaving the EU is also a viable option for them given the financial burdens member states are carrying drop down the individual life experience of it's citizens. The economic and political landscapes of Spain, Italy, France and Netherlands in particular have created a ground swell of Anti EU sentiment. With the exiting of the UK, this may accelerate other referendums and other member states breaking off from the centralised control model and artificial hive mind holding this together.

We are talking about a consciousness revolution taking place one in which vast political and culture changes will be taking place that will see this era we are entering into being compared to the great renaissance era between the 14th and 17th centuries. Where by a cultural bridge of expanded consciousness will envelope out land due to a complete over write in the corruption of the code held in place for eons of time, but new trinity wave open sourced architecture and geometry streaming to Earth.

This will be an age of great breakthroughs in Spirituality, Technology, Energy Creation, Food Productions, Medicine, as more of the great minds in the coming years become anchored in the Krystal Star Network and frequencies and have open sourced frequency running through their immortal systems and find solutions to the great challenges facing our species.

The source code naturally editing from the creator is a trinity wave frequency, that is made up of the primal sound and light fields of divine masculine and divine feminine merging together creating a third wave which creates a tri-vecar architecture. The problem experienced in this time space matrix was that this source code had been hijacked due to the family of Metatron using their knowledge of creation mechanics to hijack an open sourced self perpetuating system into a closed source system in which this collective fed off our energy and consciousness through a consumption model of operating.

This meant all systems, planets and galaxies in this time space matrix were built and architected of a faulty template that was not of the original design. Now due to this unique time and space vector we find ourselves in we are entering into the promised return of the Christ. The original geometry and frequency that the matrix was originally designed from.

This is the heralded return of the 'Christos' the inner eternally inner sustained light for humanity as our birth right. Now this energy is now streaming into our Earth grids and since we are residing on Earth and this frequency is accreting into the very planet upon which we share our energy with, by default we are beginning to receive this eternally sustained light of the creator. This has only been happening since the beginning of 2013.

Of course this is not some magic pill that suddenly you take and hey presto you are an ascended master. Of course not. But what it does mean that for the first time there is the correct undistorted frequency, geometry and architecture that you can begin accreting into your personal hologram to enable you to return to your original organic design of a divine Christed being. You ARE able to begin the over write and upgrade process so that you can begin moving your system off the old architecture that has encapsulated your consciousness into a closed source finite life field. Into a being that receives the self perpetuating eternally sustained light of the creator flowing through you as a divine immortal being.

The ultimate realisation of this is the moving of your hologram from the old "Melchizedek" universal hosting system that contains this corrupted architecture, to being hosted by the 'Krystal Star' network. This of this similar to moving a website across from an old faulty server that is giving you average performance on the internet, with poor upload and download times and poor browsing experience. To moving across to a faster cleaner instantaneous browsing experience through being hosted by an upgraded server that is undistorted and pure.

This system or server migration is just beginning to happen to individuals on the planet by the dropping in of a permanent seed atom from this Krystal Star Server into their personal hologram once they have met the internal architecture requirements in their bio-energy field and state of unity consciousness. The migration across to the Krystal Star is one of the great achievements an individual can make in their spiritual evolution in all their lifetimes.

Now the really cool thing is that we are only at the very beginning of this whole process as it is only since the beginning of 2013 that this frequency and server has come available and this energy has begun entering into our Earth grids. Those people who are migrating across to this new server are simply the first wave of people being influenced at a higher level from this frequency entering our planet.

But already we are seeing the effects of this energy down on the planet individually through people's life choices, decision sets, and understanding that something isn't quite right and without being able to put their finger on exactly what, they are realizing that if they are misaligned with their soul purpose they need to make subtle and sometimes drastic changes to their life. How many people do you know going through long term relationship break up, or expressing to you they desire to leave their job and find something more meaningful in their lives.

And of course we have seen this for the first time play out on a more collective nature through this new energy entering the Earth grids and accreting enough energy to affect the consciousness of people in the UK to make them desire to move away from centralised control and become as a nation more sovereign to make their own choices.

Now speaking to young people and being in a similar situation myself (having a UK passport and living in Ibiza Spain) most of the issue for young people in terms of their decision to want to remain has been predominantly around the perceived sense of loss in terms of living and working choices across the EU. With all other considerations (especially the centralised law making for their country being held in Brussels by a centralised Cabal who want nothing more the total control of law and policy making held by them for each member state) being secondary to their own personal sovereignty of choices where to work and live.

The ability to live and work where you choose is an ILLUSION of sovereignty and free choice. Especially when your consciousness is hacked, hijacked, limited and compressed from a controlling main frame. Keeping you in a looping pattern of life time after life time, as parasitic energetic feed to the archons and aliens hijacking your consciousness to become batteries of energy for their survival due to the closed loop architecture which they created for themselves choosing to separate from source.

True FREEDOM and SOVEREIGNTY is SPIRITUAL SOVEREIGNTY.

This is the only eternal long term question we as the future of our species must ask. What is the best move for our long term SPIRITUAL and ENERGETIC SOVEREIGNTY? The best decision from this higher dimensional perspective is to CHOOSE to be SOVEREIGN on all levels of our awareness.

From a spiritual perspective this means to be totally independent and free of any other controlling influence on our energy and consciousness. When we are free of other influences such as entities, discarnates, demons, archons, aliens, energetic implants, that are all vying for control of our consciousness we become in full control of how to drive our consciousness and personal hologram while still in our body. The problem with society and the architecture at the moment is that most of the population are NOT sovereign with their own consciousness and are littered with the before mentioned items. EVERYONE has energetic implants capping and hijacking their consciousness (unless they have gone through a through implant removal protocol), so no one is immune to this fact.

So this message is for young people who are aware of some of the control mechanisms playing out on Earth and are awakening to higher possibilities in the higher dimensions that other beings, frequencies, and intelligences exist. That the BREXIT is the first time that a larger group consciousness field (the UK) has made a collective decision to decouple from it's major controlling architecture keeping it from being a sovereign nation, and having all it's decisions about it;s wellbeing and future made from the artificial reptilian hive mind control system that wants to keep the status quo of member states (and all their beings) being battery and energetic feed to the main frame.

Now within all of this many individuals with in ALL member states are waking up to the matrix of control, and have been researching what is really happening on our planet and doing the best they can to get themselves out of the matrix. This usually means being able to meet their financial needs through the generation of their own ideas linked to their soul purpose and find a meaningful value of the current third dimensional form of exchange (money) to be able to live, breath, work, play in an environment and conditions of their own choosing.

Now the Paradox here is that as a cohort it is mainly the Gen X, Y and millennials who are doing this and are able to remove themselves from the system of control by operating outside of a 'normal job'. More and more are utilising the internet, their skills to find the sweet spot point where their PASSION – PURPOSE – PROFESSION intersect.

This is what unplugging from a centralised control system is really about, Britain has just done it as a larger consciousness field and this opens up higher potentials for more and more individuals to also do it on mass.

The first step of this is to regain your energy and consciousness sovereignty. This means removing oneself from the reptilian hive mind that is harvesting humanity's energy and to stop yourself from being used as a battery supply for off planet controlling entities and energies, and wake up to your true potential as a DIVINE BEING.

This ti-wave and Krystal Spiral architecture which is the original eternal source code is over riding the corrupted Family of Metatron reversals of the bi-wave architecture, hi-jacked vesica pisces, flower of life, fibonacci and golden mean sequences.

These templates have allowed Negative Alien Agenda's to play out in Earth's hologram and these various NAA groupings have placed sophisticated cultural and social programming technologies, holographic inserts and various other mind control softwares into Earth's Architecture such as:

- False Father God programming (God is a vengeful male figure that judges you on your actions)
- Patriarchal domination (A male dominated ideology and control mechanism)
- Armageddon Software (Earth destruction time lines)
- False King of Tyranny (mind control programming of force, competition, greed, over co-operation)

Historically this architecture has been installed and has corrupted our planetary logos, and is infecting every aspect of our society. Now with the new hosting ti-wave frequency there is a major planetary upgrade and overwrite taking place which is raising global consciousness and has greatly contributed to the UK's collective decision to remove itself from the centralised controlling reptilian hive mind which was in it's 3rd dimensional representation partly embodied by the EU.

To understand how this is happening we must explore Planetary Ascension Mechanics and explore how a planet accretes frequency so that it can switch timelines and move into a higher dimensional octave and experience a higher spiritual reality which is Earth's current reality and trajectory whether you are aware of it or not.

To this thoroughly we first must understand 15 dimensional unified field physics that is the operating parameters of this time-space matrix.

Basically we live in a 15 dimensional time – space matrix that is made up on 5 Harmonic universes. Within each Harmonic universe there are three dimensions that make up that band and with in each dimension 2 possible time lines that are available for individuals or an entire planet (which is simply a larger consciousness field) to experience. Thus by raising your vibration and expanding your consciousness you are able to experience and reconnect with more aspects of your consciousness that are stationed at higher dimensions which you are usually cut off from receiving and accessing. (At least at birth where various inorganic seals and implants are placed into your hologram preventing you from accessing the highest expressions, memories and intelligences of who you truly are)

Now as an Angelic Human with a Diamond Sun DNA we all have the DNA coding to access all parts of this matrix, however we have been cut off from accessing it due to DNA manipulation (your DNA is the gateway to be able to begin integrating the frequency at that corresponding dimension) basically it goes like this:

- Your Physical vessel is stationed in dimensions 1 -3 (Harmonic Universe 1)
- Your Soul in dimensions 4 – 6 (Harmonic Universe 2)
- Your Over Soul or Monad in dimensions 7 – 9 (Harmonic Universe 3)
- Your Avatar consciousness in dimensions 10 -12 (Harmonic Universe 4)
- Your Rishi consciousness in dimensions 13 -15 (Harmonic Universe 5)

When you have 3 DNA strands activated (which are all humans) you only access your physical incarnate identity. You see and navigate your self as separate from everything else, isolated and disconnected from the matrix and see yourself as a finite life form that upon leaving the physical body ceases to exist as an operating system.

Once you activate DNA strands 4 – 6 you start accessing your Soul consciousness, DNA strands 7 – 9 your Over Soul or Monad, DNA strands 10 -12 your Avatar consciousness (which is all of humanities potential. Starseeds or indigo's consciousness first individuated in higher dimensional star systems and agreed to come to Earth at this time to support the Planets and Humanities spiritual evolution have access to a higher DNA template of 24 – 48 strands of DNA and can access the Rishi consciousness fields of dimensions 13 – 15.

As a species we have received a lot of DNA interference and manipulation that has corrupted your DNA coding and created severe genetic digression away from your original design. This mutation has dropped your consciousness to be stuck from birth at the third dimension unless you have been able to reverse engineer yourself, and override the inorganic architecture littering your DNA template, activate the deactivated DNA strands and begin accreting your own consciousness held in the higher dimensions into your full multi-dimensional anatomy.

This being accomplished by rebuilding of your DNA, the morpho-genetic chakra's, energetic bio-circuitary and nadi's (spiritual nerves), and integrating these consciousness fields into your physical incarnate identity and back up to the higher aspects of your consciousness, Soul, Over Soul or Monad, Avatar and Rishi consciousness fields.

When you go through Bio-Regeneration and experience yourself as these higher consciousness fields, you begin shifting timelines and operating from a higher dimensional template and seeing life a much more expanded state than simply a physical body. Every decision in your life comes expanded with more potential and opportunity as you start to see the greater picture of your consciousness experiencing itself in a physical vessel as you play your role in the orchestrating of the divine plan playing in the mass drama on Earth.

(You can explore much deeper DNA Regeneration and our divine birth righted genetic potential by heading to my homepage and enrolling in the free mini course: The Science of Genetic Divinity)

Now just as your consciousness has higher expressions of yourself stationed at different dimensions so does Earth and it goes like this:

- Earth is in HU-1
- Tara is in HU-2
- Gaia is in HU-3
- Aramatana is in HU-4

Now without going into the technical aspects of what happened to Earth's consciousness and how it fell from Tara into Earth, basically the consciousness field of our planet has also experienced compression, and is currently migrating it's own energetic architecture to be able to raise her vibration enough to be able to experience it's in the ascended dimensional bands 4- 6.

The new Krystal Star hosting and subsequent ti-wave frequency's and geo-metric Krystal Spiral patterns are currently being integrated into the Earth's energetic architecture. Just as we have various pieces of energetic anatomy that needs to accrete, integrate, and circulate higher dimensional frequencies through our personal hologram. So does our beloved planet.

A planet has various energetic grids, that act like our bodies meridians called ley lines which send energy through out the planet, chakra's which accrete's incoming energy into the planet, Star Gates which brings in Higher Dimensional energy and various other sites of energetic power.

Controlling races new all about this is incredible details and were able to hijack the Earth's energy by placing controlling geometry and architecture into nodal points (intersecting ley lines) Chakra's and Star Gates. In fact if you explore the mechanics and locations of Star Gates, we very quickly begin to see sites of geo-geographical location and patterns of mass 3rd dimensional drama and conflict (which is simply a representation of Higher Dimensional conflict of control over the Star Gates.)

Essentially Star Gates are high value geo-graphical and energetic real estate and portal sites for higher dimensional intelligences who can use these location to control incoming energy and inter-dimensional travel. These places are the absolute key to controlling the incoming energy and consciousness into the planet. Whoever controls the Star Gates in effect controls the planets direction of consciousness.

Star Gates only activate and become open approximately every 26,000 years through this corridor of consciousness we happen to find ourselves in. So you are actually decided to come and incarnate into this particular time to be a part of the this great change happening to the planet. This period of time is known as a Stellar Activation Cycle and is currently happening between 2000 – 2022, with the peak year being 2017 .

Historically many of these Star Gates have been controlled and in the hands of the Negative Alien Agenda. In fact the the last time a Stellar Activation Cycle happened 26,000 years ago, the Guardian races (being's looking after the welfare of humanity) had to shut down the Star Gates since Earth was at risk for another major cataclysm due to negative agenda control of key Star Gate locations. Everything went into lock down and the various factions had to wait until this time to play out the drama again, which is the exact time period we find ourselves in. Indeed we are at the end game.

This time however the Metatronic Reversal that has been responsible for the templates to allow all this to happen, are being over ridden by the ti-wave and Krystal Spiral Geometry being broadcast by the new hosting system the Krystal Star. This new frequency along side the last 30 years of steadily increasing vibratory rate has seen many souls awaken, many star seeds awaken to who they truly are, with these beings actively playing out their soul contracts and helping the Earth and our planet. This has seen enormous grid work being performed on our planet with Guardian support and teams of light workers clearing distortions in the grids helping to clear Earth from these distortions and raise her vibration.

All of this work behind the scenes from dedicated Star Seeds and the immense amount of Guardian Alliance support along side scented beings in the unseen realms has ensured Earth's safe passage into becoming an ascending planet. The end of 2017 will see Earth move into a higher Harmonic Universe. Some will feel these changes, others may not, but all what people will notice is increased unresolved discordance and energetic patterns held in the bio-energy field rise to the surface meaning more drama in the lives of people who are not conscious of these processes happening to them and the collective. Along side more harmony for those actively working on their shadows and raising their vibration.

Now all of this increased vibration and upgraded geometric coding streaming into Earth, dedicated grid work, Star Seed mission in interaction with Guardian support teams has seen the people of Earth wrestle back Star Gate control over Earth's key sites. In total there are 12 Star Gates, with each Star Gate having a Cue Site and something known as the Planetary Arc of the Covenant. Each Star Gate has this triad of communication that works synchronistically together to control the Star Gate. Each of these sites has a different Geographical location on the planet.

The original seeding of humanity in the 12 tribes put each tribe coded with a specific DNA configuration that would give them dominion and control over a certain Star gate. This was a security measure for our planet ensuring the people of earth held the keys to control their own Star gates. With the infiltration of the Negative Alien Agenda into Earth's grids saw this control taken away from humanity and placed outside of our own hands meaning we lost key energetic real estate that controlled passage way into other realms.

If we explore and look at some of the various Star Gate locations complexes such as the Star Gate 10 complex which comprises of the Star gate Abadan Iran, Q-site Basra, Iraq, and Planetary Arc of the Covenant Baghdad Iraq. We can begin to understand the conflicts or constructions built over the geographical areas are more to do with controlling the energetic Star Gate than anything to do with a 3rd dimensional geo-political strategy. Remember AS ABOVE SO BELOW.

I will explore a more complete explanation and listing of planetary templar and ascension mechanics, for the purpose of this piece lets just explore some the strategic sites of interest in the UK alone, since the BREXIT did impact the sovereignty of some of these important sites.

The key sites in the UK that are related to Star gate mechanics are:

STONEHENGE – is the planetary arc of the covenant linked to the Star Gate 2 system. Stonehenge has been a major portal for the negative agenda. Not only is it linked to the 2nd Star Gate system, but it has been the major harvesting point for taking massive amounts of electromagnetic power off planet up into the controlling archons and controller races.

What happens at Stonehenge is that all negative grids that have been established around the world that are running reversed or negative frequency, black magic and other types of satanic energies send this discordant energy through the grid lines to Stonehenge which then is the major portal for all this discordant energy to be syphoned out of Earth and into another collapsed and closed source system (Orion) that needs this energy to feed itself.

There are numerous strategies to ensure the constant feed off discordant energy along these grid lines, you just have to realise all the distorted sexuality such as the booming porn and sex programming, various alcohol drug addictions, victim – victimiser programming playing out in society that creates the frequency that can be used for harvesting. All of it gets sent to Stonehenge where it accumulates and is syphoned off planet.

This process is exactly how humans are used as energetic feed to controlling off planet groups who revel in the discordance that have created down here through the systematised negative cultural and societal programming that creates these negative behaviour trials that steal our life force energy,

The BREXIT was monumental for the UK as it ensured that this controlling energy could no longer take place on their land, Source has decreed that no system shall have it's consciousness hijacked with an intermediary between Itself and Source. By voting to leave this has also been established as the will of the people and now we have seen the removal of the controlling energies and beings who were harvesting this energy out off our planet for personal battery use. This is quite monumental as this means the head has been cut off the Cabal.

Quite literally the off planet controlling forces who manipulated and were ultimately running the Cabal by providing a higher dimensional link for them and sending them codes, instructions and occult knowledge to put everything in place have been removed from the equation. Thus the Cabal have lost their higher dimensional masters.

This means the UK's complexes involved in the Star Gate system:

Stonehenge – Planetary arc of the Covenant Star Gate 2.

Westbury – Q-Site 9

Vale of Pewsey – Star Gate 11

Cornwell – Planetary Arc of the Covenant 12

Have all had their negative agenda controlling energy sealed off, the removal of them has been happening over these last years, but not there has been a contract established with BREXIT through the will of the people. The UK is now Sovereign and has been sealed off from further external interference's from negative agenda off planet influences.

The people have spoken and this is allowing a major reconfiguring of the grids that send energy around the planet. What we are experiencing now is a complete shifting of the old grid network, into a new grid location, new Star gate locations as the whole system begins to establish the new Krystal Star frequency through the planet. Thus the grids are changing and this is helping humanity's and the planet's consciousness to accelerate and expand.

This vote was directly linked to the free will of people to ask to be removed from the reptilian hive mind artificial matrix and although most people did not realise this is what they were voting upon then end result is that this is what actually happened. Thus we have just witnessed the vote for SPIRITUAL SOVEREIGNTY for the UK. We will now see the phasing out of the old controlling grid lines that have been associated with the reptilian hive mind, and the establishment of the new Krystal Star frequency and tri-vecar geometry start to integrate more fully into the Earth. This is happening though the Krystal Star guardians, orbs, and server send this new over writing geometry and frequency into these newly established grids.

Because of this we are seeing the time lines begin changing and the potentials for Earth and Humanity to shoot to a higher dimensional octave, the Guardians are now coming in and over writing the old timelines to help accelerate Earth's Golden Age.

We now see the Cabal and one world order operate with out it's controlling influences (the negative alien agenda). Things will continue to play out, and they will become more and more desperate to hold onto their influence and control, but the biggest factor in their dominion and control has been the off planet negative agenda intelligences setting up the templates for allowing this all to happen. The city of London, Washington, and the Vatican which have been the major networks creating energetic controlling have been dismembered and cut off from their higher dimensional negative agenda source. and now we have left only the 3rd dimensional people who have been previously programmed by this negative influence in place to play out the rest of the drama. Obviously they will continue to want their agenda to move forward, however it is with out the supporting energy of the ABOVE controlling factions.

We now have massive amount of the Aquiline plasma frequency bursting into the newly established earth grids a and this energy influence ordinary people on the ground in subtle yet powerful ways. the tide has indeed turned for humanity retaining and reclaiming it's spiritual Sovereignty and see the establishment of humanity's next root race – The Homo-Divinus.

As a message for concerned people of our planet, the Krystal Star server would like to share that this decision for BREXIT shows the power of what happens when the collective comes together and have their mindset linked to their own free will, and that amazing things can happen with the power of conscious intent and free will choice to re-establish personal, planetary and spiritual sovereignty.

The Vesica Pisces and resulting flower of life pattern is actually the programming tool of the closed loop architecture. Plus the Golden Mean Ratio, and Fibonacci sequences have no direction relationship to their centre (source). This means the natural life pulse of expansion and contraction back to source is not met, since the number sequence in these patterns consumes the next number in the sequence.

Starseeds are individuals that originate from far-distant star and solar systems, planets, and galaxies. These highly evolved beings carry an oversupply of wisdom and special abilities that reside in a hibernating sleep deep within the core of their being. All starseeds are encoded with activation encryptions that will unlock their knowledge and talents at a pre-determined or spontaneous time on earth, for the retrieval of this information is to be utilized for very specific purposes.

Most starseeds feel a sense of misplacement, like they were "aliens" dropped here on Earth without a compass, so they harbor a sense of emptiness and longing to find or go back to their "true home." The notions of extraterrestrials, space travel, supernatural forces, psychic endeavors and multi-dimensional spirit connections, are very customary and real to them. Television shows and movies such as Star Trek, Star Wars, SG-1, Battlestar Galactica, ET, and others, provide a sense of comfort, familiarity, and association for the lonesome starseed that yearns to connect to his/her true being and true home.

Many starseeds have very unique and striking physical attributes such as facial features, atypical physical body structures, elongated necks, larger eyes, oddly shaped skulls, or angelic faces. Starseeds tend to be "space hybrids," as they carry DNA from the various universes and dimensions they have traveled in their many past incarnations. Starseeds have existed and lived in a host of other dimensions, planets, and star systems. They may have incarnated in other lifetimes as angels, fairy's, elven-kind, elementals, galactic beings, or any combination thereof. When they incarnate as humans, they retain this DNA that has been encoded into their form as well.

Starseeds have an inner knowing that Earth is not their primary source of existence or identity. They feel like foreigners on this planet, and they find the behaviors and customs of our world to be perplexing, irrational, and even absurd. Starseeds innately have extraordinary intuition and psychic abilities, and they are very adept and attuned to concealed agendas and conspiracies of earthly societies, however, they are not always aware of their special gifts. In fact, many starseeds live in a walking sleep-state for most of their lives. Fortunately, all starseeds have a built-in alarm clock that is meant to awaken and activate them from their slumber, to remember who they are and why they have come to the planet, and thus accomplish their duties which they in fact volunteered for upon their prior incarnation.

A starseed's primary goal for incarnating on a planet is to bring their unique and distinctive abilities and wisdom to planetary civilizations, for the purpose of serving in a humanitarian capacity, and uplifting the planet to a higher ascended status. They are very "old souls" that have been through numerous incarnations throughout the cosmos and beyond. They beat to a resonating pure sound of Universal Source's Light, and have responded to the call for mastery, vision, wisdom, and creativity to be "seeded" upon and into the very mysteries of existence that beckons to the depths of their soul. The journey of the starseed is to pave new pathways, transport progressive innovations and technologies to the planet, harness new healing modalities, and seed advanced frequencies of light, all for the growth and expansion of both the planets and souls who inhabit them.

Starseeds have a unique ability to be able to shift their consciousness at a rapid pace, so once activated; they can make stellar advancements in all core areas of their physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual planes of existence. This includes barreling through their own limitations, fears, patterns, and other earthly obstacles much more swiftly than other Earth humans. This is due to the starseeds past familiarity with the processes and practices of raising vibrations and frequencies to other planets, stars, and galaxies, while on assignments in other lifetimes.

Starseeds carry the "seeds" of light. They are the indigo's, the forefather's, the innovators, the galactic ones, the star ancestors, and the true teachers and inspirations of ascension. But, whatever you want to call them, one thing is for certain...starseeds are powerful beyond measure; they shine a magnificent beacon of light and love to propel us all into the Golden Age of inspiration, creativity, innovation, and advancement.

Starseeds entered this planetary consciousness body to experience reincarnation and activate their spiritual mission for a wide variety of reasons and interests. The primary goal was to re-establish the potential freedom from forced reincarnation through the restoration of the Universal Law of One through the reclamation of the Consciousness body template. In order to do so the Negative Alien Agenda (NAA) of planetary domination, enslavement, hybridization and abduction would have to be eventually revealed to humanity. The extraterrestrial agenda and the history of extraterrestrial genetic influence in both every day human events and the many historical records have been extinguished in every way possible. Both benevolent and malevolent extraterrestrials have been involved with this planet for millions of years, and they have never left this planet. This was known on planet until the last 5,500 years, when most of this knowledge and its written history were destroyed. History is re-written by the victor of war, and hence, the real extraterrestrial agenda is hidden while a false record of human history is put into its place. The reptilian bloodline manipulated humans were given this knowledge in secret to maintain their position for power and control. They are ultimately puppets for off planet Controllers that sold out the human race. Many Starseeds were aware of a psycho-spiritual warfare between extraterrestrial races and came to this planet as embodied human intelligence portals to feed back to the overall group effort in its reconnaissance mission back to their home planet or Universe. However when most got here, they were subjected to the many alien implants, mind control systems, dark infiltration and victim/victimizer software like all human beings. For those reasons many still remain asleep or subverted to the fact of their real spiritual mission and consciousness.

However, it has been generally understood that during the end cycle the Neutron Window is opening between this third dimensional planet earth which intersects with the Universal Transharmonic gateways. The Trans-gate timelines are that which allow these Starseeds to reconnect and return to their home frequency after this tour of duty.

For Starseeds, this lifetime is a recon mission that was required to gather the intel required to comprehend the levels of genetic damage, the source of planetary invasion, the identity of the main intruder races, and attempt to offer sovereignty and freedom to the souls which had been enslaved, abused and entrapped in repeated reincarnation cycles. One of the primary issues is the horrifying violation of the human soul from negative alien abduction, satanic ritual abuse, soul body siphoning, sexual mutilation, cloning replicant bodies, and using living human bodies sperm and ovum to genetically farm human and hybrid bodies.

Many Starseeds have come to this planet to research, collect intel to source hybridization agendas and observe the alien abduction and contactee phenomena on planet. In most all cases the direct abduction or contact experience is required in order to collect the information and return it back through the Neutron Window to the Guardian Krystal Host races. The Krystal Star family is a Guardian race that has intervened with this planet to help heal and free the soul entrapment and bodily imprisonment the N.A.A. have extracted upon the human population of earth.

The Krystal Star architecture is that which allows the synchronic phasing of inner/outer/in-between currents of energy to be inhaled and exhaled circulating the eternal life force spark of creation throughout the entire organism.

This trinity principle is the original holographic architecture of the microcosm to macrocosm, planetary, human and all of universal creation. Our bodies and souls were not created by Reptilian Anunnaki Gods; we were modified and hybridized to suit their various domination agendas through hybridization. The consciousness template is designed as a Universal form of embodiment, thus all architecture, patterns and 12D code must be embodied as a trinity wave to return the consciousness to the earth. The original source code of one component cannot work without the other three parts unified together. There is an energy matrix comprised of frequency that is a trinity wave tone, this tone is inter-dimensional and also a part of the core substance of our Universal matrix. Up until recently this planet (consciousness) was separated from the merge between all of its creational components. Now that the principle component has returned, this is the unique process and massive transformation an ascending group of humans begin as potential planetary Consciousness.

The is the organic Tree of Life. What it represents, exists as part of the organic Natural Laws of Physics that are indelibly inherent to the eternal, multidimensional Living Cosmos, and to the eternal “Unified Field of Energy and Consciousness” within which the Cosmos resides. It is the quintessential structure of the organic universe at large. You can say that everything is intimately connected and based off of this structure. It is from this structure that all life and systems are created and expanded from. This grid is a map if you will and it maps the flow of life from its inception and shows the cycles of evolution that occur as life moves through the grid.

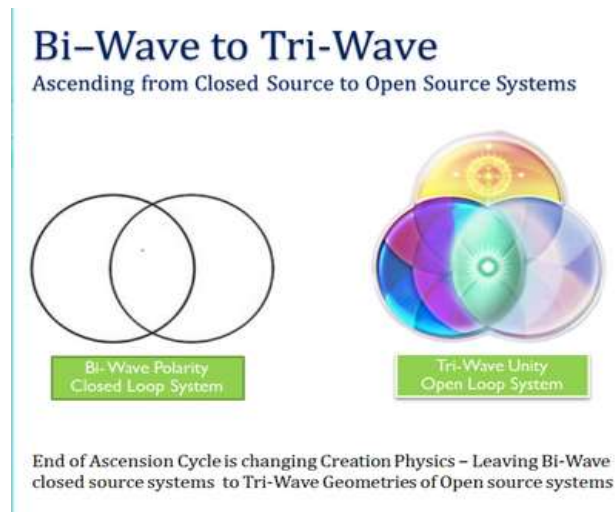

The Krystal Spiral is based on the 12-Tree Grid. The Krystal Spiral always has a direct relationship with its center, the First Creation Point. The Krystal Spiral is a living spiral because there is in-flow and out-flow; there is a gift from Source and there is a gift of Backflow giving back, and then there is a gift of Backflow Return. It is a constant give and take (or phasing) of energy between a living God-Source and a living Matrix. The quantum builds by the natural ratios of the Kryst Code.

The Metatronic Spiral starts out bigger than the Krystal Spiral because it is trying to harness, eat and override the living spiral. It has no center and needs to tap into the Krystal Spiral to capture that energy. The more the Metatronic Spiral expands the more it eats, getting closer and closer to the Golden Mean Ratio. It creates a Tube Torus that sucks energy out and throws it back in. It regurgitates its own energy over and over and sucks energy off of other things (consumptive modelling and parasitic). The Krystal Spiral and the mathematical sequence from which it emerges comes directly from the Zero Point or central point of all union. The Krystal Spiral perpetually retains a living, breathing connection through the preservation of what came before, as it expands through multiplication. Out of the one comes the many.

The original organic Krystal Spiral is created from the math included in humanities organic core manifestation body and is represented in the 12 Tree Grid and Diamond Sun DNA. The Krystal architecture is self-perpetuating and inner sustaining, its math is represented by including Zero Point or Zero in its numerical sequence: 0, 1, 1, 2, 4, 8, 16, 32, 64, etc., through doubling each numerical value. Each of the numerical values is derived though returning to Zero and adding all of the numbers together to get to the next highest value in its sequence. The value of Zero represents the central point of union, or Zero Point God Source, while increasing the values of the Krystal Spiral the Consciousness remains connected to the original Source field while progressively expanding.

In January 2013, the Earth’s Morphogenetic Field structure and planetary mathematical architecture was coded to fully anchor the Krystal Star frequency presence (the true Return of Unified Consciousness) along with running its “living” energetic current in the planetary brain or Planetary Logos.

The source code or Universal intelligence field is the sacred geometry Krystal Star (Universal Consciousness) merkaba hub accessed through the merging of manifested bodies holding trinity wave formats that connect directly into the Universal Source. The three sound-wave-tone parts when merged into internal energetic balance become designed as one component that access directly into the feedback loop exchanging with the Universal Source. This exchange with the Universal Source is the principle of consciousness, an inner sustained Universal Source light which signals the end of the consumptive model planet. This is what it means that the Universal Source cannot be reached by anything but the Consciousness (Krystal Star Tones), although this process of unifying consciousness with the Universal Source is known by different names.

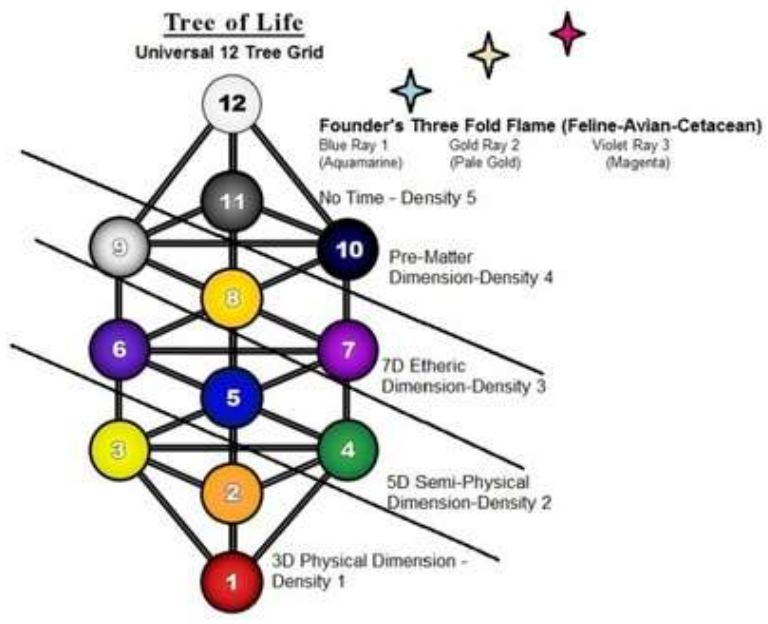

This trinity principle is the original holographic architecture of the microcosm to macrocosm, planetary, human and all of universal creation. The Christos template is designed as a unity form of embodiment, thus all architecture, patterns and 12D code must be embodied as a trinity wave to return the Christos to the earth. The original source code of one component cannot work without the other three parts unified together. There is an energy matrix comprised of frequency that is a trinity wave tone, this tone is inter-dimensional and also a part of the core substance of our Universal matrix. Up until recently this planet (consciousness) was separated from the merge between all of its creational components. Now that our Mother principle component has returned (January 2013), this is the unique process and massive transformation an ascending group of humans begin as potential planetary consciousness.

Since our source code is a trinity wave accessed through the merging of polarity, such as the merging of masculine and feminine energies, our species has been suppressed from connecting through the sacred union relationship. Sacred Union is our divine birthright and this organic architecture is now being returned to our species. This gender energy pattern is changing now on our planet. The sacred union personification is about perfected inner energetic balance between gender principles.

Many of us as Starseeds are the Ascension blueprint prototypes to embody this source code energy into the physical realm, and we have begun the alchemical process to become the “house the source dwells”. When the life force energy is drawn back into the source field through the trinitized geometries, the feedback loop of reciprocal source light is generated and expanded. Our goal during these new beginnings of time is to create the tri-tone (neutral field) that draws the composite energy back into the zero point as a feedback loop, back into the source of all creation. These patterns on the grid are in effect the life giving nourishment of the Divine principle. This trinity field creates an eternal and perpetual supply of life force that regenerates the bodies. This eternal supply of life force is the Universal Source light and the trinity principle, which when is used in matter the pattern is called a trinitized form.

The Kathara Grid / 12-Tree Grid / Eternal Life Grid/ Tree of Life. The word Kathara refers to the Core Structure of Morphogenetic Fields, the Holographic Templates of Sound-Light and Scalar Waves that serve as the blueprints on which matter manifests. KA - Light, THA - Sound, RA - One. Every aspect of the Universal Creation and life spiral are designed and

The structure of the macrocosmic Universal Tree of Life is replicated within the microcosmic personal Tree of Life. Individual human anatomy (physical, emotional, mental and spiritual bodies) manifest upon and within the multidimensional layers instructed by the core manifestation template - The Tree of Life. Every aspect of the Universal creation and life spiral are designed and instructed through these blueprint structures. Learning to travel consciously through the Tree of Life is the pathway to personal sovereignty and freedom.

instructed through this Blueprint structure. The structure of the macrocosmic Universal Tree of Life is replicated within the microcosmic personal Tree of Life, the 12 Tree Grid. Individual Human anatomy manifest upon and within the multidimensional layers instructed by the core manifestation template – The Tree of Life which is the Lightbody architecture. 12 Spheres, 12 Rays, 12 Dimensions, 12 Timelines (24 Potential), 12 DNA Strands, 12 Base Tone Harmonic Structure (144 Sub-harmonics) of the Cosmic Christ Frequency in the 12D. Beyond these 12 Dimensions is the Threefold Founder Flame, which is the Founder consciousness of our Universe. 12 Spherical/5 Horizontal Triad Bodies that hold the morphogenetic fields for the mental bodies/identities. Each triad body builds the horizontal structure of the Tree and the Mental Body/Male Principle. See Horizontal Triad Bodies built upon the 12 Tree Grid, and Rod functions.

Upon this structure are 12 Kathara Centers known as Signets. These signets are numbered 1 through to 12 and represent the dimensions 1 through 12 that make up the Kathara 12 Tree Grid. They are similar to the seven primary colors of the chakras. There are an additional 5 more colors in the wave spectra that are added here for a total of 12 colors or wave spectra in this 12 Tree Grid. They are as follows from the lowest to the highest they are Red, Orange, Yellow, Green, Blue, Violet-Blue or Indigo blue, Violet, Gold, Silver, Blue black, Silver-black and White. Each Signet associates with one dimension, one stargate, one chakra and 1 DNA strand.

Many of us as Starseeds are the Ascension blueprint prototypes to embody this source code energy into the physical realm, and we have begun the alchemical process to become the “house where Consciousness dwells”. The Spring Equinox will activate this Inner Consciousness embodiment potential for more of us in the Starseed family. This cycle will be a rebirth for the masculine principle.

To better understand the information presented here, it helps to think of a computer. The way in which the universal and planetary systems function are very similar to the way in which computers function. You can think of a computer functioning based on its operating system and software programs. Our Universal and Planetary systems have templates/blueprints/morphogenetic fields that govern the way in which these systems operate and govern the energetic structure, composition and much more. This occurs at a microcosmic and macrocosmic level and is a part of the mechanics of all creation.

Unfortunately, planet Earth’s template was hijacked by those of whom we will refer to here as Controllers and the Negative Aliens and as such our planet’s templates were reconfigured, mutated, distorted and reversed as part of a much larger anti-human agenda. We will refer to it here as the Metatronic Code Distortion and it was purposely programmed by the NAA Controllers to distort the organic relationship between the electron and proton spin rates. The intent was to harness the life force energy through hijacked creational code and inorganic architecture, using the Vesica Pisces (VP) bi-polar geometry. This hijacked Vesica Pisces architecture kept the binary code (consciousness polarity split through separation and distortion) locked down in our planet so that the trinity (Unity Field) code would not be accessible. It forced reversal and split patterns that continually fragmented our consciousness at multiple dimensions

Consciousness and the alchemy of sacred geometry creates every particle in the universe. Energy and matter at its most basic level can be defined as the multi-dimensional mathematics of sacred geometry. The schema of Sacred Geometry which are relevant are the Circle and Sphere; the Vesica Pisces; the Trinity; and the Pythagorean Tetraktys. The Tetraktys is then developed into triadic arrays of other frequencies, with the Circle, Vesica Pisces, and a further schema the Star of David being considered as subsets or extensions of these. Firstly the Circle is the most fundamental form of Sacred Geometry, and traditionally denotes the sacred center, the cycle of creation, maintenance and completion, and the perfection of totality. It exhibits symbolism adequate to the monad (identity), duad (sacred temenos and profane without) and triad (spiritual center, psychic domain, and physical boundary). The regular and semiregular polyhedra are all bound by regular polygonal faces, each inscribable on a circle. In traditional symbolism these represent different qualities of manifestation. These faces are restricted to just the triangle, square, pentagon, hexagon, octagon, and decagon; and if the tilings are also included the dodecagon. Each face is disposed according to the frequency of axis of symmetry on which it lies, being either of single or double frequency. They are each constructed with compass and straight-edge, and embody 32, 33 or $\emptyset = 1.618\dots$ (and thus 35) proportional harmonies, which in tradition accord with qualities of generation, formation and regeneration.

The traditional symbolism of the Sphere is similar to that of the Circle, particularly as an exemplar of perfect form: a finite embodiment of the infinite.³ Critchlow shows each of the regular and semi-regular polyhedra constructed on the Sphere;⁴ the various polyhedra thus express different specific qualities of universal manifestation. Secondly the Vesica Pisces, the most important schema of the Sacred Geometry of mediæval Christianity, is regarded as the ““Mother of Form””. It represents an archetypal division of unity into duality, which generates a higher trinity. It also represents a quaternary, as the initial duality of centers generates a second duality of intersections; it thus organises the world into an above and below, and a left and right. This symbolism is later shown to be particularly rich and adequate to its use with the polyhedra. Its proportional harmonies are 33; but it is also used to form 32 and \emptyset harmonies. Thirdly, a symbol of the Trinity is developed from three overlapping circles of equal radius, the center of each circle lying at the overlap of the other two circles to yield three interpenetrating vesica pisces. The three-in-one symbolises the integral interwoven threefold order of polyhedra, and hence represents the potential of threedimensional space. Fourthly, the Pythagorean Tetraktys, a four-frequency triadic array, exhibits symbolism of the central monad, the mirror-image duad, the triangular triad, the four level tetrad, and finally the decad as $1 + 2 + 3 + 4 = 10$. The integration of three- and fourfold symbolism is particularly apt, three symbolising the heavenly realm and four the earthly (also, $3 \times 4 = 12$, the Sun, and $3 + 4 = 7$, the Moon). The tetraktys was an essential part of the Quadrivium which, according to cabbalistic tradition, was preserved by inscriptions on the pillars of Seth when God destroyed the world by flood and flame. Proclus says: - Sacred Number springs From th' 'uncorrupted Monad, and proceeds To the Divine Tetractys, she who breeds All; and assigns the proper bounds to all, Whom we the pure immortal Decad call.⁵

The triadic array is generalised to obtain a cosmogonic sequence of monaktys, duaktys, triaktys, tetraktys and pentaktys. The heptaktys is used with a subset yielding a further schema of traditional geometry the Star of David; or it is developed as an extension of the tetraktys. The Star of David usually represents the duality of complementary triads, but here the symbolism is of a threefold interwoven order of quaternary Vesica Pisces.

COSMOGONIC SEQUENCE OF THREE INTERWOVEN CLASSES OF POLYHEDRA Firstly one may commence with the monaktys as the three-in-one symbol of the Trinity, which symbolises the interwoven harmony of the threefold order of the polyhedra. This also represents what Lawlor describes as the Hindu concentric cosmic model of polyhedra inscribed one inside another,⁶ one octave comprising Icosahedron, Dodecahedron, Cube, Positive and Negative Tetrahedra, and Octahedron through to inner Icosahedron. Secondly the duaktys comprises three quasi-regulars, each the key solid of its class: the Class I Octahedron, the Class II Cuboctahedron, and the Class III Icosidodecahedron. Thirdly, two forms of the triaktys are derived; firstly, each quasi-regular solid is located opposite its dual. Secondly the same dualities locate the respective male and female polar solids of each class, with male elements without and female within. Fourthly the tetraktys locates three triplets at this level of manifestation, one for each class, of outward quasiregular and withdrawn male and female poles to either side, the three triplets being symmetrically arranged about the central three-in-one. Quasi-regulars form an outer triangle; a hexagon consists of alternating male and female poles, which comprise two male and female interpenetrating triangles, with the polar opposites of each class lying opposite each other. (Here the tetraktys is shown within the Star of David). THE STAR OF DAVID GIVES RISE TO THREE CLASSES OF VESICA PISCES The tetraktys is developed into the Star of David by the addition of peripheral dual rhombic solids, being the duals of the quasi-regulars. Three interpenetrating Vesica Pisces one for each class surround a central three-in-one symbol. There are two outer triangles, one of the quasi-regular solids, the other of their duals, with each quasi-regular lying opposite its dual. There are two interpenetrating inner triangles, one of male poles and the other of female, with each male pole lying opposite its dual female pole. This structure is teased apart into three separate Vesica Pisces, one for each Class. Each Vesica Pisces is reoriented into quasi-regular solid above and its dual below, with the male pole on the left and its dual the female pole on the right. The perfect quasi-regular above separates into the two dual polar regulars, and recombines in the dual solid below.

THE GRADUAL UNFOLDING OF INNER ORDER WITHIN EACH CLASS A cosmogonic sequence for each Class represents the staged unfolding of inner order, from the single quasiregular solid as source through to the full development into the complete class of regular and semi-regular elements. The duals of the quasi-regulars (which are not in general semi-regular) are at times included and at others excluded. The sequence commences with the seed monaktys of the quasi-regular solid, which contains in potential the entire class. It proceeds to the quaternary Vesica Pisces of orthogonal dualities, with vertical axis of quasi-regular and its dual, and horizontal axis of dual polar extremes of the regular solids. The author elsewhere concludes that the regular solids though perfect, are really extremes polar to their mediating and harmonising perfect quasi-regular solid, which is thus a more perfect form. (However it might then be argued that such a solid, by virtue of being merely one element of a sequence of quasi-regulars, is therefore less than perfect). Its shadow below is its dual.⁷

The triaktys for each class locates the quasi-regular at the center of the base between its regular polar extremes on either side. The dual rhombic solid of the quasi-regular lies at the apex, so that quasi-regular and dual lie on the central vertical axis. The great and small rhombic element lie on either side on the second level, so that the neutral elements of first, second and third degree form the inner triangle. This is developed into the tetraktys which comprises all of the elements of that class. In accord with its central nature, the quasi-regular element is located at the center, with its dual at the apex. Regular polar elements are located at two opposite vertices of the outer triangle. Their truncates are situated between them, along the base line. Great and small rhombic elements are located as before relative to the central quasi-regular element, forming a triangle which allows for the alternate sequences possible connecting the three. Enantiomorphs of the snub polyhedra lie either side of the central quasi-regular element. Finally the subset of the pentaktys structures the completely unfolded order for each class (leaving aside the dual of the quasi-regular). The base line comprises the truncation sequence of regular male pole, truncated male pole, quasi-regular neutral center, female truncated pole and regular female pole. The rotation-displacement sequences arrange an inner Vesica Pisces of small rhombic Second Order element and quasi-regular First Order neutral center above and below, and intermediary left- and right-handed enantiomorphs of the snub polyhedra on the left and right. The central vertical axis erects a transcendent sequence of quasi-regular First Order element below, small rhombic Second Order element in between, and culminates in the great rhombic Third Order element on high. Contemplation of this polyhedral order according to the Vesica Pisces and Pythagorean Tetraktys recalls Plato's dictum, which teaches that they mediate the world of the Good, the Beautiful and the True.

Why is it referred to as Metatronic?

The Metatronic Code Configurations and technologies have progressively mutated the DNA, and entrapped the consciousness within a biologically-induced state of false euphoria—while systematically dissolving the organic evolutionary potential to achieve Genuine Eternal Life Bio-Spiritual Star-Gate Ascension. The agenda has been to covertly use the human race as “unwitting, expendable tools,” to ultimately achieve Earth “Templar Dominion” (control over the Planetary Star Gates). Every biological life-form represents a “biological electromagnetic quantum,” which exists in a symbiotic bio-electric interrelationship with the electromagnetic structures inherent to the Planetary Templar and Star-Gate System. The intention of the groups who support the black-hole systems and Metatronic Code is to harness this “raw biological power” of Earth’s most “genetically advanced” Angelic Human species, by cultivating the human biology into a “vessel” through which the interdimensional frequencies of the distorted “Metatronic Code” could be “electronically channeled en masse” into Earth’s Templar. If a mass of Angelic Human bodies could be genetically mutated to “run the frequencies of the Metatronic Code,” then a critical quantum of the “collective human body” could be used to create “quantum override” of the organic electromagnetic coding of Earth’s Star-Gate Ascension Passages, which are “electronically keyed” to the organic Angelic Human genome. Once such a “mass of Metatronically-coded biological electromagnetic human quanta” was created, masses of humans could then be “guided” to perform specific “spiritual energy rituals” at various key “Sacred Site” locations of Earth’s Templar, during the “all-important periods” of Earth’s Stellar Activation Cycles (2000-2017) Star-Gate-opening “Ascension Cycles.”

This process of “invasion from within” worked relatively well in fulfilling the small-scale agendas of the ancient Atlantean period, culminating in “Fall by design” of Atlantean culture and resultant cataclysmic destruction of the territories of Atlantis. These “small victories” of Atlantis represented “baby steps” in the fulfillment of a much larger “Master Plan,” to which these “small steps” were intended to lead.

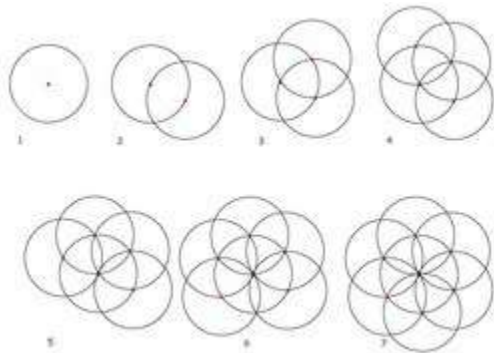

When our Planetary Logos was invaded and corrupted by the Reptilian Controllers (Archons) of the NAA, the planet and our race were impacted dramatically. It meant we were no longer free to create and evolve as per the original Blueprint of our intended creation, and we had no memory of what had happened to us. We were recycled through continual reincarnation on the Astral Plane with no memory of the past lives, who we really are, where we are going, or what our real relationship is to God and what humanities “purpose” actually is. Over time most of us lost our feeling connection to our Soul Matrix and we became numb to the pain in order to survive in anti-human based structures. What has happened to our planet is not human, it is “alien” to the true nature of humanity.

The family known to many as Metatron is a ‘fallen angelic collective’ out of an entity. Many millions of your Earth years ago this collective was faced with a decision that ultimately lead to their demise. As a collective they chose to separate from Source light and as such this decision is known as ‘The Fall’ by which the beings are no longer connected to and receiving the flow of eternal source light, therefore altering their Krist Code encryption configuration of perpetual motion and eternal life supply and breaking their link with God-Source infinite energy supply. Since the modified coding (metatronic) can not receive any more energy directly from Source only a limited supply of energy remains within its own shield template functioning as a black-hole-system which forces it to suck energy from other systems and progressively self consumes, therefore, has a Finite Life.

The collective made a decision that it would use its knowledge of Primal Creation Physics, and that it would take over this Time Matrix. As long as they were able to feed off of something else that had its life force connection to Source, they wouldn't go into implosion (molecular compaction). They were able to create a way of feeding energy out of this time matrix to supply and fuel their Time Matrix. These "feedlines" moving energies off planet have clustered and created multiple infections in the Universe and all throughout this Planetary Time Matrix. They do this through the manipulation of the reversed bi-wave polarity fields and rotation of the electron particle by forcing the energy flow in disproportionate channels that feed their intended source. This has created much damage in our nervous system, planetary brain and earthly kingdoms. One level of this damage is to aggressively age the human bodies in a process of molecular decay which is the result of the compaction and reversals in the planetary field.

The fallen, finite geometries are the main tools they use to fuel and feed their systems through the encryption of inorganic architecture. The flower of life is an encrypted reversed code that begins with a phase locked Divine Trinity symbol; it is phase locked because it is disconnected from the energy of Source via the Unified Field – and will never be an Eternal expression. The flower of life grows one sphere of energy at a time and not via energy quantum building of the Divine Trinity; it grows via consuming energy from the planet.

			1	eats	1	to	become	2
2	eats	1		to		become		3
3	eats	2		to		become		5
5	eats	3		to		become		8
8	eats	5		to		become		13
13	eats	8		to		become		21
21 eats 13 to become 34

In the FOL pattern the diagonals are set at 60 degrees. This is an unnatural energetic and geometrical relationship that prevents the spheres from phasing correctly with the top sphere (think 3 balls like a pyramid), thus preventing back flow return from god-source. When spheres can't phase and spark correctly, they become cut off from the normal flows of eternal life currents and become metatronic. The Golden Mean & Fibonacci spirals have no direct connection to their centers. They are progressively removed from Source.

In its early stages the Fibonacci spiral isn't a proper spiral. As it expands it approximates to the Golden Mean spiral, but only to a scaled down version of it. The Fibonacci spiral doesn't have an inner spiral, i.e. it's incapable of converging towards the center.

The Fibonacci sequence features a sequence of numerical expansion in which the “next expansion number” to come is reached by “adding together” or “devouring” the two numbers that come before it. If we think of each number as a quantum of energy, then the two previous numbers are “added together” and consumed in order to “become the next number,” leaving nothing in their place; the “numbers before” become “finite quanta” that must “disappear or die” in order for the next number to be “born.” Thus the “numbers” within the Fibonacci sequence ALL represent finite energy forms that will be consumed and cease to exist, in order for the next generation to emerge.

This is “recycling of finite energy” to create growth, not growth through a self-generated power source, and thus the mechanics of the Fibonacci sequence imply that it represents a growth-expansion formula for finite life, not organic eternal life. The growth-expansion pattern of the Fibonacci sequence can be found in nature, within energy structures and biological forms of a finite nature — which includes many, but not all, life-forms on contemporary Earth. The golden ratio can be seen throughout nature, in pinecones, flowers, shells, tree branches, even the proportions of the human face and body.

These false-sacred geometries are distortions based on the original organic eternal-life ratios of the “Krystal Spiral.” These metatronic code distortions and frequencies are not just an issue here for Earth, but for the whole universe and its multi-dimensional anatomy.

This is the Metatronic Code Distortion (Reverse Mutation) and unfortunately for anybody who seeks true self mastery and self-empowerment, or ascension into eternal life spirals, this is a serious problem in the spiritual and new-age communities. Metatronic or finite life structures lead to a severing of higher dimensional and Source connections. This in turn leads to an isolated, closed and dying universe.

The Metatronic Code Configurations and technologies have progressively mutated the DNA, and entrapped the consciousness within a biologically-induced state of false euphoria—while systematically dissolving the organic evolutionary potential to achieve Genuine Eternal Life Bio-Spiritual Star-Gate Ascension. The agenda has been to covertly use the human race as “unwitting, expendable tools,” to ultimately achieve Earth “Templar Dominion” (control over the Planetary Star Gates). Every biological life-form represents a “biological electromagnetic quantum,” which exists in a symbiotic bio-electric interrelationship with the electromagnetic structures inherent to the Planetary Templar and Star-Gate System.

The intention of the groups who support the black-hole systems and Metatronic Code is to harness this “raw biological power” of Earth’s most “genetically advanced” Angelic Human species, by cultivating the human biology into a “vessel” through which the interdimensional frequencies of the distorted “Metatronic Code” could be “electronically channeled en masse” into Earth’s Templar. If a mass of Angelic Human bodies could be genetically mutated to “run the frequencies of the Metatronic Code,” then a critical quantum of the “collective human body” could be used to create “quantum override” of the organic electromagnetic coding of Earth’s Star-Gate Ascension Passages, which are “electronically keyed” to the organic Angelic Human genome. Once such a “mass of Metatronically-coded biological electromagnetic human quanta” was created, masses of humans could then be “guided” to perform specific “spiritual energy rituals” at various key “Sacred Site” locations of Earth’s Templar, during the “all-important periods” of Earth’s Stellar Activation Cycles (2000-2017) Star-Gate-opening “Ascension Cycles.”

This process of “invasion from within” worked relatively well in fulfilling the small-scale agendas of the ancient Atlantean period, culminating in “Fall by design” of Atlantean culture and resultant cataclysmic destruction of the territories of Atlantis. These “small victories” of Atlantis represented “baby steps” in the fulfillment of a much larger “Master Plan,” to which these “small steps” were intended to lead. When our Planetary Logos was invaded and corrupted by the Reptilian Controllers (Archons) of the NAA, the planet and our race were impacted dramatically. It meant we were no longer free to create and evolve as per the original Blueprint of our intended creation, and we had no memory of what had happened to us. We were recycled through continual reincarnation on the Astral Plane with no memory of the past lives, who we really are, where we are going, or what our real relationship is to God and what humanities “purpose” actually is. Over time most of us lost our feeling connection to our Soul Matrix and we became numb to the pain in order to survive in anti-human based structures. What has happened to our planet is not human, it is “alien” to the true nature of humanity.

So what is the reversed inorganic architecture and geometry being used to serve this agenda?

On our planet, we have levels of geometric architecture that govern the creation of energetic fields and the movement of these fields within the ley lines and grid networks. The fallen finite geometries have been installed into the planetary brain or planetary logos. These geometries can be referred to as the Binary Bi-wave Geometric System or the hijacked Vesica Pisces Network (aka Reversed Networks). The architecture of the planetary logos controls every aspect of the planet, from the physical elemental substances to the emotional, mental and “energetic quanta” or “life force” distribution. It is the main control mechanism and circuit board that governs the planet in every inconceivable way. So these geometries actually are a part of the governance of where these energies go, how they’re directed and what they’re used for. This inorganic bi-veca architecture and reversal networks give the controllers the ability to collect, harvest and send energy to off-planet sources or direct it to their preferred people here on the planet that are supporting the controller agenda. The energy is moving in the Reversal pattern, disconnected from the Organic Supply of Source.

What does this mean for Ascension and how can this reversal/distortion be corrected?

The Crystal template or Unity Intelligence when physically embodied has a function that acts as a re-encryption processor of overwriting distorted artificial code (death or anti life forces) and replacing it with organic Source code (eternal life forces). This is a very similar process to using an “anti-virus” program on your computer hard drive. It scans for problems creating weakness in your computer function and it eliminates or overwrites the virus instructions that were embedded in the computer’s mainframe language.

We are receiving a whole new Unity Source Code language at this time and it is purposed to overwrite the distorted code that has been used to “consume” others. Unity Intelligence source code is the language platform to end the “consumptive modeling” that has infected our blueprint. This means it is getting increasingly harder for those beings who are “consumers” who feed upon others to either exist or have used others energies to serve themselves. These entities are being “starved” and it is another reason why they are desperate and “fighting” aggressively now.

Another way to express this is that the Cosmic Christ Intelligence is a Unity Source Code that has access back into the direct God Source thereby it is Eternal and does not need to consume anything to exist. Upon its return to the Earth during the Ascension cycle, its purpose is to incarnate on the Earth body to restore God’s Natural Laws and correct its blueprint back into the Divine Plan for creation.

We are in the latter stages of the Ascension Cycle and the time of the VP geometric harness is ending and we are learning how to create trinitized forms which allow the feedback loop of source field energies. Up until recently this planet (consciousness) was separated from the merge between all of its creation components. Now that our Mother principle component has returned, this is the unique process and massive transformation as we ascend and the Unity Field architecture is anchored. This trinity field creates an eternal and perpetual supply of life force that regenerates the bodies. This is the physical embodiment of the Cosmic Trinity and it is happening for the beings that are able to hold these levels of frequencies. This Tri Tone/Trinitized Form is our 12D blueprint and the original intention created for the human species.

Controller Forces are being increasingly squeezed out of this domain and are losing their “feeding sources” as Mother Arc Hub networks are coming online. These “Mother Arc Hubs” are returning the Tri-Wave or Trinity fields of Consciousness back to our planet. The Tri-Wave format in our particle structure is required to circulate the eternal supply of God Source through our bodies and the planet. As Cosmic Mother Arc returns back to the planetary core her Arc Hub Gateways are systematically being activated into the grid networks and the brain of the planetary body.

In January 2013, our planet arrived to the time of the promised return of Christ, the externalization of the Krystal Star presence (the Cosmic Consciousness). On the earth surface, the etheric filaments of the collective planetary field Ley Lines are filling with the imprints of corrected blueprint patterns containing magnetic sound vibrations. These also help to create chalice configurations for the Mother principle to run her life force through the smaller tributaries of the earth. These corrected configurations are intersections for flowing life force current that circulate throughout the planetary heart system, sonic waves through the oceans, waters and rivers, as they are pumped through the Aurora Portal Network and Mother Arc Hubs. The Morphogenetic Field structure of the planetary mathematical architecture has been coded to fully anchor the Krystal Star frequency presence along with running its “living” energetic current in the planetary brain or Planetary Logos. This has been generated from the constant work involved in the rehabilitation and recoding of the damaged planetary grids, which act as the central nervous system for the planet. There is still much more to do with resetting the planetary grids and the logos (brain) into compatible messaging for trinitized frequency formats.

Aurora Hosting Cycle Begins

The consciousness units of the next Universe, the Rays of the next Universe, the beings that live there in alignment with Krystal Star and Unity Intelligence, are called Aurora. Krystal Star works with the Aurora to build platforms that are safe zones that step over the reversal fields running on the earth from the Frequency Fence and NET.

Aurora answered our call for assistance during the Ascension cycle, and they are the Beloved Guardians that are hosting this Universal Ascension and hosting our planet for ascension. They defend personal sovereignty through the Law of One for all life. Their mission and support is to re encrypt the physical body on atomic and subatomic levels because the chemical constituents of our DNA is an elemental base, so our physical body is an elemental body and it's comprised of these four base level chemical constituents. We are being re encrypted on an atomic level, our particles are being shifted and we are being upgraded into these new re encryption templates and modes. This is to build the physical elemental form and Monadic form of our body back into the organic life force of our divine blueprint, the original human soul, the blueprint a 12 strand DNA Silicate Matrix. The Aurora's mission is to build the planetary and individual particle base and re-encrypt us with its new coding. As of December 2013 the Eternal Life Grid was able to be plugged back into Planetary Star Gate 12. The planet and all eternal life forms are now rapidly re-accrediting the energy that we had lost from the distortion. The spin speed of the units of light that compose a matter from determine the Ray of light or flow of energy those units of light can merge with. The increasing spin speed of the planet is what will allow her to “shift” back into her healed expression.

The higher energy of Source spirals into the planet from the Solar Suns non polarized vertical star gates of 12, 9, 6 & 3 held at the core of the sun and into the non -polarized planetary star gates 12, 9, 6 & 3 held within the core of the planet.

The higher energy wave then steps down and circulates through the polarized plane “layers” of the planet from the inside of the planet outward following the Eternal Spiral Divine Trinity step down. The speed at which the infusion of higher energy circulates through the planet is determined by the contraction / expansion rate of the Divine Trinity which is an encrypted rate based on the condition of the planetary system and how quickly the planet is able to receive and integrate energy.

This process is extremely intricate and specifically timed per the encryption of Source original intent and ensures the system does not receive more energy than it can hold or faster than it can receive it which ensures the system is not blown up from receiving too much energy too quickly. The cycling rate of the Divine Trinity of Earth increases with an infusion of higher energy every 30 days as the system expands to be able to hold another infusion at the next 30 day time shift infusion.

Primer on Various Incarnation Agreements

Starseed – Souls having lived or originated on other planets, other galaxies, on spacecraft, or in other dimensions and interlocking world spaces, who have volunteered to assist in bringing in the Ascension Cycle (Age of Reason) and assist 3rd dimensional worlds through the next phase of evolution. They inhabit their human body from its birth. Some are born knowing their identity and purpose, others are to be activated, or wake up, at a later time. The timing of the moment of birth is deliberate. Souls agreeing to come to Earth together find corresponding genetics that fit their soul’s mission. A lot of experiments have been put in motion through bloodlines just for this purpose, in order to house the star seed operation. There are many variations of these experiments with star seed, and there are many combinations of astrological star codings, from planet placement to blood/genetic requirements, to match galactic agendas. One may have astrological markings through star seed codes, but without the bloodline to enhance the markings, it gets more difficult for a star seed to resonate to galactic agenda, but not impossible.

Starseeds are programmed, so to speak, to aid in the activation of their brothers and sisters in collective advancement through moral, ethical and mental and spiritual guidance. When a star seed is called upon to gather in “unison of purpose,” that is when others seem to witness miracles or magic in motion, because of their combined galactic heritage. Most star seed that are truly activated from all levels seem to hold their optimism about the missions that they have chosen. Another trait of star seed is to totally rejuvenate their bodies through meditation or other modes of healing. Others not yet activated into their knowing can and do turn sometimes to darker agendas of behavior. True power of star seed comes from knowing their total journey and specific mission with the 3rd dimension worlds and humanity. There seems to be a constant among star seed, which is that a guidance system seems to oversee their stay and assist when truly needed.

Indigos – Extraterrestrial souls (beyond 3D earth plane) born to human bodies having more than two strands of DNA. They have unique abilities because of their DNA. They are the result of advanced extraterrestrial blood experiments that have gone through many genetic changes in order to foster their interdimensional talents. This is a large group of souls that chose to come to earth via spacecraft, mostly from the Pleiades, and hosted through Sirius Gateway and beamed down as human energetic templates as embryos that would match their missions through genetic codes.

Both their astrological imprints and blood codings will match every time, no exceptions. Indigos also have the ability to pick up signals from beacons, such as the one found by Russian cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin and American Alan Shephard during 1961 referred to as “postcards from the rim”. These beacons emit both light and tone signals, along with a mathematical language, which can translate like a 3D film of the Galaxy. Many monoliths are out in space, devised by a group of races, and now Indigos seem to resonate to their intergalactic messages and translate that new language into the earth consciousness fields.

Walk-Ins – The classic definition of a walk-in is an advanced soul choosing to volunteer, through a combination of galactic agendas, to assist Earth through her next stage of evolution. They do not go through the birth process; they trade places with someone already in human form through a prearranged agreement with that soul. If a Star Seed or Light Worker have no other way to complete their soul mission, then they might agree to leave the body and make a trade with a Walk-In. Many advanced galactic civilizations have used these Walk-In experiments at the pinnacle of evolutionary change in order to match celestial agendas. This is not to be confused with being possessed of spirit, that is another matter all together. These Walk-Ins that are being placed in human form are guided in deliberate fashion and in accordance with “free will” at cosmic levels of agreements.

The silver cord of life force is traveled upon to imprint the new consciousness of the Walk-In and agreements are made to fulfill certain family concerns left unfinished by the soul walking out. After a period of adjustment, then certain behavior patterns emerge and drastic changes start to take place such as weddings, divorces, re-location, change of occupation, even sexual preference may change. Walk-ins can be permanent, which means that the original soul will not return. Temporary Walk-Ins can use a human body for short periods of time while the original is gathering new instructions while residing in other realms before returning back to body. So a Walk-In can be permanent or temporary. There are also other ascension prototypes for the “walk in” that differ from this classic template. These can be soul braids from Galactic family, embodiment of Star or planet Logoi, or other arrangements that are specific to genetic template creation and birthing which is required for soul groupings to incarnate in other planetary chains.

Lightworkers – Advanced souls originating on Earth, who have evolved to the point of developing special abilities and talents, which are needed for elevating the planet and her inhabitants. They were born to the body they occupy. They seem to be drawn to Star Seed missions and want to be involved with their agendas. They are the worker bees of mission control. Many will choose to have astrological star codings, although they will not be star seed, but by frequency they seem to resonate to healthy lifestyles and empower mental, moral, ethical, spiritual behavior wherever they go. Their home is the Earth and they want to keep it sustainable for all forms of life. When their mission is through, they will be returning to Earth reality; not to the stars.

Below is the star seed activation process. This is a 12-minute process:

- Step 1 Sit down, close your eyes, and start a series of three inhalations and exhalations. Pull in gold light through the top of your head and down into your body, down through your feet and on down to the earth for about one minute.

- Step 2 Place your left hand, palm up, on your left thigh. Your right hand should touch the area one or two inches below your navel. (This is an energy vortex.)

- Step 3 Ask for your energy vortex center to be activated. Stay in this position for about three minutes.

- Step 4 Move your right hand up one or two inches above the navel to the solar plexus energy vortex and ask to activate that area. Keep your hand there for about five minutes.

- Step 5 Now place a hand, palm up, on each thigh and ask the Earth Angels to send for a confirmation that you have been activated. Wait about two minutes to receive.

Now you are activated..
